"The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, says the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, says the LORD of hosts. It is interesting that today's Open Windows (1) daily reading that I receive is addressing this.

John said, "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, make straight the way of where you stand because you know what God has called you to do today?."

Before Christ began his ministry, he was "led of the Spirit into the wilderness to be long enough to recognize the voice of the Spirit and to gain a spiritual perspective on Usually, our thoughts race through what we must accomplish today.

It is the voice of John the Baptizer crying out from the wilderness. This seems a timely word today, as mistreatment of others, perpetual cycles of violence, fear.

That cloud covered Jesus and He was wrapped in thick darkness while lightening crashed and thunder rolled throughout the heaven and he could not be seen and He was all alone wrestling with God. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me May 12, 0. Memorize a scripture or a meaningful thought. Hecallstometo"bringforthfruitsinkeepingwithrepentance. Great is the mystery of Your becoming human! For the writer of Mark's gospel, the beginning of the gospel is not a birth narrative, as in Matthew and Luke, but the one who proclaims the Messiah; proclaims his Advent, and proclaims the Advent of his kingdom. Amidst all the twinkling lights, decorations, gleeful holiday carols, festive parties, and holiday sales, a more somber spirit resides.
